Microsoft Dynamics GP Tip - How to Use Dynamics GP Unit Accounts to Enhance Management Reports

One great aspect of Dynamics GP is that you can use statistical data in combination with financial information to create key metrics to track the performance of a company. What many people don't realize is that you can utilize Unit Accounts in GP to add metrics to existing financial reports. Click here to read more details.

Before You Hire, Track Applicants with myStaffingPro

Managing applicant data is a massive endeavor. Although you may only have one position to fill, the response you receive might be in the hundreds or even thousands. Manually sorting through all that data is not only time consuming but costly.

myStaffingPro applicant tracking system (ATS) is designed to streamline and facilitate your hiring process so your time and skills are put to their best use; reviewing top candidates. The tools in myStaffingPro allow you quickly and efficiently screen, review, forward, and select candidates. Once a selection has been made, simply fill the opening to transfer the new hire's data from myStaffingPro to Microsoft Dynamics GP. For more information, click here or contact us.
